

Norris Precision Mfg. is a contract aerospace, defense, and medical manufacturer located in Clearwater, Florida. Operating out of a modern 60,000 sq. foot facility and using the industry's most advanced equipment, Norris Precision Mfg. produces an array of complex, tight tolerance components for the aerospace, defense, commercial and medical industries. The company's expertise in the industry is the ability to perform world class machining as well as providing special processing, testing and complex assembly on site. Additional information can be obtained at www.norrisprecision.com.

This position entails performing first piece inspection of a wide range of machined parts using both manual and programmable coordinate measuring machines (CMMs) in a fast-paced environment.

Job Requirements:

- 1st piece inspection experience using CMMs
- Strong blueprint reading skills including geometric dimensioning & tolerancing (GD&T)
- Use of various types of mechanical inspection equipment
- Ability to perform in a fast-paced manufacturing environment
- Team-oriented with good communication skills
- Basic computer knowledge including Microsoft Office
- Aerospace manufacturing experience desirable, including castings and forgings
- CMM programming experience a plus, including Mitutoyo software
- Experience working in an ISO9001/AS9100 environment desirable

- Willingness and ability to learn new techniques and concepts

Company Benefits:

- Excellent pay
- Company paid holidays and vacation
- Health and dental plans
- 401K plan
- Tuition reimbursement